

WHO WE ARE

Le Beurre is a small french bakery and cafe in San Francisco. The founder and owner, Marie, is a young American woman who when studying baking abroad in France fell in love with the cafe culture. She synthesized her love for baking with her adoration for France and wanted to mirror that european cafe culture here in the United States.

Le Beurre translates to “The Butter” in french, fittingly, we pride ourselves on simple authentic ingredients to start your day and pushes the boundaries of an american morning coffee run. Instead of a rushing workaholic lifestyle, Le Buerre’s ambiance urges customers to sit and relax, talk with friends and enjoy their croissants and espressos.

Every day our esteemed inhouse bakers serve an assortment of pastries:

- croissants
- eclairs
- madeleines
- baguettes
- brioches
- canelés
- financiers
- daily supprises

As far as drinks, we serve a simple but delectable and finely brewed menu of coffee, lattes, cappuccino, espresso and hot chocolate
